LITs will spend the first week of the program on camp property. During the weekend, participants will be camping in the Nantahala National Forrest in North Carolina and rafting on the Ocoee River in Ducktown, Tennessee. The rafting trip will be facilitated by professionally trained whitewater raft guides and equipped with paddles, helmets, and PFDs. Transportation will be provided by Glisson in 15 passenger mini buses driven by camp staff. While in the Nantahala National Forrest and on the Ocoee River, emergency services are approximately a 30 minute drive at the most. Camp Glisson provides adequate group gear and supplies for the weekend trip, yet participants are subject to extreme weather should it suddenly arise. Participants will be held responsible for their own behavior while participating in this Leader-In-Training program. Understanding these situations, I hereby give permission for my child, _____ to participate in this trip sponsored and supervised by Camp Glisson.
